

The background of the entire image shows three people in an office environment. On the left, a woman with curly hair is looking towards the center. In the middle, a woman with long dark hair is looking towards the right. On the right, a man with a beard and glasses is looking towards the center. The office has a modern feel with a framed abstract painting on the wall. Overlaid on the image are several semi-transparent circles in shades of blue, pink, and purple. A large white rectangle is positioned in the upper half of the image, containing the main text.
